OLIVETTE GROWS GREEN THUMBS

A decorative illustration of a green vine with leaves and small flowers, running vertically along the left side of the text and then horizontally across the bottom of the text area.

Olivette residents were recent award winners in The St. Louis Post-Dispatch Great Gardens contest. A two year old citizen's group, Olivette in Bloom, took first place in the "best garden tended by a group" category. OIB, led by Estie Pruett and enthusiastically supported by the work of over 30 volunteers received this honor for their recreation of Veterans' Park at the corner of Dielman and Olive roads. OIB also tends gardens in Stacy Park. OIB welcomes volunteers and contributions are tax deductible.

Resident Connie Heiman was recipient of another Great Gardens contest award. Connie won first place in the "best overall design" category. Her backyard shade garden mixes plants and sculpture.
