Olivette in Bloom Celebrates 10 Years of Beautifying Olivette

Have you noticed the new garden art in Stacy Park? The kinetic wind sculpture was donated to Olivette by Olivette in Bloom in honor of its ten year anniversary. Artist John Everett of Iron Decor N More was selected to create the sculpture. He melded three individual sculptures together to form a group stronger than one single form, just as our community of gardeners is stronger together than any one of us alone.

Olivette in Bloom (OIB) is a non-profit community volunteer organization with a mission to promote the natural beauty and harmony in Olivette by designing, planting, and maintaining garden sites. OIB needs YOU in our gardens. Check our web site www.olivetteinbloom.org for workday dates and other volunteer opportunities.

It's been quite a challenge to get things planted this Spring with all the rain. Once you are finished planting, what are you going to do with all those empty cell packs, trays and other containers? Recycle them!

You can save all those containers from your spring thru fall planting projects and keep them out of the landfill. While they cannot be put in your regular recycling container, you can participate in the Missouri Botanical Garden's Plastic Pot Recycling program. Hartke Nursery, 1030 North Warson Rd, has a recycling bin on site.
